For the Jasper Courier.

Our County Newspaper.

HAYNSVILLE, IND., July 21st, '69.
MR. EDITOR—I wish to correct a prevalent opinion in regard to the Jasper COURIER. Some of the citizens of this community, I have heard remarking, that their objections to subscribing for the COURIER were as follows:

1st. They differ with said journal in politics.

2nd. That the editor will not publish anything emanating from a republican.

3d. That the sheet is so small that they can find very little news in it.

To the first objection I would say, that I myself differ politically with the editor, but that is not sufficient reason that I should discard his paper, because I can read his views, but am not bound to act accordingly unless convinced, and I am happy to state my openness to conviction, "a wise man may change his opinion, a fool never."

To the second objection I can most emphatically pronounce the allegation false. I have written numerous articles and have always found them promptly published, and have never failed to find the editor courteous, polite and obliging, always encouraging all to correspond with him.

To the last objection, I would say that the fault finders themselves are the cause, because they fail to give the editor that support which is indispensable to the enlargement of his sheet, they sneer at the paper, will not encourage its circulation and then express disapprobation because it is not circulated. Is it sensible for any one to do everything in his power against a certain enterprise and then because it does not go on to feel aggrieved?

I would therefore recommend all citizens to support their county organ, give it liberal encouragement, and they will do more for the enlightening and good of the county, and be more benefited, themselves than by subscribing for a dozen other periodicals from elsewhere. I would also suggest to all who take the COURIER, to turn the cold shoulder (at least in that respect) to those who will walk a mile for the purpose of borrowing the paper and then make contemptuous remarks respecting it, and expressing their determination not to subscribe.
